Abstract of the Thesis

EFFECTIVENESS OF AN INTERVENTION PROGRAMME FOR ENHANCING AWARENESS ON FIRST AID AT SECONDARY LEVEL

Investigator

Santhikrishna.C

Supervising Teacher

Dr.P.Rekha

Safety has prime importance in our daily life. Human beings are prone to accidents in all walks of life. In the existing social set up it is essential to have awareness about safety measures. Effective application of first aid is the mode of avoiding the risk factor of life.

In the case of students the school atmosphere is very important and they must be made secure in such surroundings. About 55 percent of students are studying in the schools of Kerala from standard one to ten. School aged children spend about 30 percent of their time in schools. In these settings they are at a greater risk of injuries and medical emergencies due to the higher level of involvement in sports and extracurricular activities. Timely administration of first aid in response to injuries and medical emergencies will help to reduce complications among children. Hence the need and importance of first aid must be communicated efficiently in our schools.

Definition of Key Terms: Effectiveness, Intervention Programme, Awareness, First Aid, Secondary Level.

Intervention Programme- The intervention programme means a set of programmes facilitated by the experimenter to change the relative position of the participants in relation to their psychological, familial and school environment bringing in changed developmental outcomes (Oxford Dictionary,2013).

In this study the investigator developed an intervention programme on First Aid and applied the same among the experimental group. There were different emergency situations where first aid is to be given in the intervention and based on that 21 classes were taken. The development of the classes was as per the lesson transcripts and used Discussion, Demonstration, Mock situation, Chart presentation, Lecture, Video presentation, Power point presentation and Sharing of experiences.

First Aid- First aid is the provision of limited care for an illness or injury, which could be provided, usually by a lay person, to a sick or injured patient until definitive medical treatment can be accessed, or until the illness or injury is dealt with (St. John Ambulance, 2006).

In the present study, the investigator has taken usual emergency situations occur at secondary level which need first aid. This includes Fainting, Wounds, Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) , Recovery position, Heart attack, Bleeding, Fracture and Immobilization, Dislocation, Sprain and Strain, PRICE method, Electric Shock, Burns, Sun burn, Poisoning, Bites and stings, Drowning, Choking, Epilepsy, Foreign bodies in the eye, ear and nose, Road accidents and some fundamentals of first aid.

Variables

Independent Variable- First Aid Intervention Programme.

Dependent variable - Awareness on First Aid among secondary school students.

Objectives

1. To analyze the need of an intervention programme on first aid education based on

- a) Content of biology text books at secondary level
  - b) Views of teachers' about first aid at secondary level
  - c) Awareness on first aid among students at secondary level for
    - The total sample and sub sample based on gender.
2. To develop an intervention programme on first aid to enhance awareness on first aid at secondary level.
  3. To find out the effectiveness of the intervention programme to enhance awareness on first aid among students at secondary level
    - on comparison of pre test and post test scores for the total sample and subsample based on gender
    - on comparison of post test and retention test scores for the total sample and subsample based on gender
    - to find out the effect size of the intervention programme to enhance awareness on first aid at secondary level

Methodology

Design of the Study

Single group Pre- test- Treatment- Post- test- Retention test design was selected for experiment.

Method: Both survey and experimental methods used in the study

Sample : The survey was conducted among 628 secondary school students randomly selected from the schools of Kozhikode, Malappuram and Palakkad districts of Kerala. 78 teachers were selected as teacher participants to collect views about first aid at secondary level as part of need analysis. Among the 78 teachers 50 teachers were selected from different schools and 28 teachers who were participated in focus group discussion conducted in a school at Malappuram district.

The experimental sample was consisted of 35 students of ninth standard from one school at Malappuram district.

Instruments used in the study

1. First Aid Awareness Test
2. Opinionnaire on First Aid
3. Focus group interview schedule
4. First Aid Intervention Programme
5. Lesson Transcripts

Statistical techniques used in the study

1. Descriptive statistics like Mean, Median, Mode, Standard Deviation, Skewness , Kurtosis and Percentiles.
2. Test of significance of difference between means.
3. Cohen's d

Major Findings

1. Emerging views of teachers about first aid education at secondary level

1. All the four groups reported that fainting, fracture, road accidents, epilepsy, wounds, bleeding, dislocation, sprain and strain were the common emergency situations occurred among the students in the school.
2. Fainting and fracture are the most common emergency situations in their school.
3. Need of a First Aid room with a First Aid kit in secondary schools.
4. Earlier there was a text book for First Aid education, as Health science. At present the curriculum is weak in First Aid.
5. Training in First Aid at secondary level students will be beneficial in their future life also.
6. Separate learning materials are to be developed for First Aid education at secondary level.
7. Sufficient period and time is to be given to students for First Aid.
8. To enhance the knowledge in first aid mock videos with illustration are essential.

2. From the sample of students in the survey it was found that

1. Mean score of awareness on first aid for the total sample (N= 628) is 21.92. The total score of the test was 57. From this awareness of the total sample on first aid is found low.
2. The mean score obtained for boys in their awareness on first aid was 20.44 and that of girls was 23.29. From the comparison of awareness on first aid between boys and girls the 't' value obtained was 6.16 which shows mean difference is significant at .01 level. This shows that there is difference between boys and girls in their awareness on first aid.

3. Experimental sample

1. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid between pre test and post test for the whole experimental sample shows that the pre test mean score for the total sample was 22.11 and the post test mean score was 43.86. The 't' value for the total sample was 16.97 which shows significant difference at .01 level.
2. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid for boys shows that the pre test mean score was 18.50 and that of post test was 39.79 and the 't' value was 10.70. The 't' value shows significance at .01 level.
3. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid for girls shows that the pre test mean was 24.52 and that of post test was 46.57. The 't' value was 12.90 which shows significance at .01 level.
4. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid between Post test and retention test for the total sample shows that for the total sample the post test mean score was 43.86 and that of retention test was 44.80. The critical ratio obtained was .90 which is less than the score of significance at .05 level.
5. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid between Post test and retention test for boys found that in the case of boys the post test mean score was 39.79 and the retention test score was 40.43. The difference between means is not significant at any level.
6. Comparison of mean scores of awareness on first aid between Post test and retention test for girls shows that in the case of girls the post test mean score was 46.57 and the retention test mean score was 47.71. The difference between means is not significant at any level.
7. The magnitude of the effect of first aid intervention programme was found large since the value is higher than 1.

Conclusion

1. Based on the need of an intervention on first aid education explicitly stated in terms of content of Biology text books, views of teachers at secondary level and the awareness of students on first aid, a program on first aid is essential at secondary level.

2. The developed program was found effective in enhancing awareness on first aid among secondary school students through the comparison of results between pre test and post test for the total sample and subsample based on gender and also the effect is found large.
3. The effect of the intervention program was found long lasting as evidenced through the retention test.

Educational Implications of the Study

The intervention programme of the study is useful to students at secondary level especially and also to teachers, parents and the whole members of the community. Because the first aid knowledge is essential at any place at any time. The implications of the study are as follows

The main principle of first aid is to save life. Every student knows the fact that “life is precious”. In this context first aid knowledge is very essential to students. The knowledge of first aid is very much helpful in and outside the school. This knowledge is also helpful in one’s future life. Each school should develop a culture of safety and training should be given to all its stake- holders. Every school should have adequate facilities with regard to first aid (First aid room, first aider, first aid kit, first aid service, emergency numbers etc). Mock situations related to first aid should be given to students to improve their knowledge. The important tool in the hands of a teacher is text book. So text book should incorporate first aid topics adequately. Special packages on first aid training should be developed. The pre service and in service training programmes incorporate first aid. Every disaster necessitates first aid service. So training of the public on first aid is acceptable. Hence the programme will be highly useful to students, teachers, and parents and to the public.

ആസീരിയർ വാഴ്ത്തുകൾ

സുഹൃത്തുക്കളേ,

സെപ്റ്റംബർ 5 അദ്ധ്യാപക ദിനം നമ്മുടെ കോളേജിലും കൊണ്ടാടുകയാണ്. 'ആസീരിയർ വാഴ്ത്തുകൾ' എന്ന ദ്രാവിഡമായ പേരിൽ ഈ പരിപാടി സംഘടിപ്പിക്കപ്പെടുന്നു. ഒരു അദ്ധ്യാപക പരിശീലന കേന്ദ്രം എന്ന നിലയിൽ അദ്ധ്യാപക ദിനത്തെ അതിന്റെ പ്രാധാന്യത്തോടെ സമീപിക്കാനുള്ള ഉത്തരവാദിത്വം നമുക്കുണ്ട്. അന്നേ ദിവസം വൈകീട്ട് 3 pm ന് ഗൂഗിൾ മീറ്റിൽ നാം ഒത്തുചേരുന്നൂ. നമ്മുടെ മുതിർന്ന അദ്ധ്യാപകർ നമ്മളോട് സംവദിക്കുന്നു. അതിനു പുറമേ, ആശംസാരുപത്തിൽ നമ്മൾ തന്നെ തയ്യാറാക്കിയ വീഡിയോ പ്രദർശനവും നടത്തുന്നു. ഒപ്പം ചില മത്സരങ്ങൾ കൂടി നടത്താൻ ഉദ്ദേശിക്കുന്നു. മുഴുവൻ പേരുടെയും പങ്കാളിത്തം പ്രതീക്ഷിക്കുകയാണ്. പരിമിതമായ സാഹചര്യങ്ങളിൽ നമുക്ക് ഇങ്ങനെ ഈ ദിനത്തെ മനോഹരമാക്കാം. മത്സരങ്ങളുടെ വിശദ വിവരങ്ങൾ ചുവടെ നൽകുന്നു.
